Executive Compensation at State Agencies

John Keel, CPA
State Auditor

Overall Conclusion

The decisions of state agencies' executive officers directly affect the delivery of services to the citizens of Texas. Therefore, it is in the State's best interest to ensure equitable pay for executive officer positions to help recruit and retain qualified executive officers capable of effectively and efficiently managing state agencies. Executive officer annual base salaries had a wide range-from $$ 70,000$ to $$ 335,000-$ as of June 30, 2014.

The State Auditor's Office conducted a study of executive compensation and identified significant disparities among the annual base salaries of some executive officers compared with the annual base salaries of other executive officers and/or compared with the annual base salaries of other management positions at an agency. Specifically:

> Exempt Positions, Executive Officers, and Other Management Positions
> Exempt Positions. An exempt position is exempted from the State's Position Classification Plan (Plan). Article IX of the General Appropriations Act establishes conditions for exempt positions. The schedule of exempt positions specifies salaries of certain employees not covered by the Plan.
> Executive Officers. For the purpose of this report, "executive officers" refers to state employees who serve as the administrative heads for state agencies and hold titles such as executive director, superintendent, and commissioner.
> Other Management Positions. For the purpose of this report, "other management positions" refers to state employees who are not executive officers and hold titles such as deputy director, division director, and chief financial officer.
> Twenty-seven executive officers were among the top 100 highest paid management employees at state agencies. The remaining 73 positions were employees in other management positions ${ }^{1}$ (see Table 1 on page 4 for more information).
> Of those 73 other management positions, 21 were at the Department of Transportation.
> Four executive officers and 10 other management positions earned higher annual base salaries than the Health and Human Services Commission's executive commissioner and the Department of Criminal Justice's executive director. ${ }^{2}$ The executive commissioner of the Health and Human Services Commission oversees 5 agencies with a combined budget for fiscal year 2014 of approximately $$ 36.0$ billion and $57,866.5$ authorized full-time equivalent

^0 employees. ${ }^{3}$ The Department of Criminal Justice has a budget for fiscal year 2014 of approximately $$ 3.2$ billion and 40,295.4 authorized FTE employees.

The recommendations in this report are intended to bring about comparable pay among similar executive officer positions at state agencies. An analysis of the 100 highest management annual base salaries at state agencies identified the following:
> The annual base salary for the Department of Public Safety's director ranks sixty-sixth among the 100 highest management annual base salaries.
> The Employees Retirement System's executive director ranks first and the Teacher Retirement System's executive director ranks second among executive officers on the list of the 100 highest management annual base salaries at state agencies. ${ }^{4}$

For this analysis, the State Auditor's Office placed agencies in one of three executive officer compensation tiers, which are groups of agencies according to recommended salary groups, based on factors such as the size of the agency's budget, the number of authorized FTE employees, and the complexity of the agency's mission. For example, the agencies placed in Tier I include health and human services, education, and public safety agencies (see Chapter 1-B for more information).

Summary of Objective, Scope, and Methodology

The objective of this report was to conduct a study reviewing exempt position compensation to:
> Compare exempt positions to market average compensation for similar executive positions.
> Compare exempt positions' salaries to classified positions' salaries.
> Prepare an analysis of exempt position compensation that considers agency size, agency appropriations, authorized full-time equivalent employee levels, and classified positions within the agency.

The Legislature directed the State Auditor's Office to conduct a study that reviews the compensation of exempt positions in Article IX, Section 3.08, the General Appropriations Act (83rd Legislature).

[^1]The scope of this study included 74 executive officer positions that were exempt from the State's Position Classification Plan (Plan) during the 2014-2015 biennium and 1 director-level position at the Bullock Texas State History Museum. This report also provides salary comparisons and market analysis for executive officers for self-directed, semi-independent agencies. This study excluded positions at higher education institutions and legislative agencies (except for the State Auditor, which was included for purposes of comparison), elected officials, the Secretary of State, and the courts.

For this study, the State Auditor's Office compared exempt positions at different agencies and considered the size of an agency's annual appropriations; the number of authorized FTE employees as of February 28, 2014, including the Governor's and Legislative Budget Board's approved changes; market average compensation for similar executive positions; the exempt position salary as compared to the salaries of classified positions within the agency; and specialized education required for each position.

In addition to reviewing compensation data compiled by external parties, the State Auditor's Office conducted surveys of state agency executive officers and human resources directors and selected public entities, and analyzed salaries for full-time classified state employees and exempt executive officers as of June 30, 2009, and June 30, 2014, from statewide personnel systems.

A family member of the State Auditor is the executive director of a state agency included in the scope of this report. This condition could be seen as potentially affecting our independence in making recommendations related to the agency. This condition did not affect our conclusions and is discussed further in Appendix 1 on page 28 of this report.

Authorized Full-time Equivalent Employees and Budget

Authorized full-time equivalent employees are based on the second quarter of fiscal year 2014 (quarter ending February 28, 2014), including the Governor's and the Legislative Budget Board's approved changes.
The budget data is from the General Appropriations Act (83rd Legislature) "total method of financing" category in agencies' bill patterns.

The decisions of state agencies' executive officers directly affect the delivery of services to the citizens of Texas. Therefore, it is in the State's best interest to ensure equitable pay for executive officer positions to help recruit and retain qualified executive officers capable of effectively and efficiently managing state agencies.

The State Auditor's Office conducted a study of executive compensation at state agencies and identified significant disparities among the annual base salaries of some executive officers compared with other executive officers and/or with other management positions at the agencies (see text box for more information about authorized employees and budget). For example:

- Four executive officers and 10 other management positions earned higher annual base salaries than the Health and Human Services Commission's executive commissioner and the Department of Criminal Justice's executive director. ${ }^{5}$ The Health and Human Services Commission's executive commissioner oversees 5 agencies with a combined budget for fiscal year 2014 of approximately $$ 36.0$ billion and 57,866.5 authorized full-time equivalent (FTE) employees. ${ }^{6}$ The Department of Criminal Justice has a budget for fiscal year 2014 of approximately $$ 3.2$ billion and 40,295.4 authorized FTE employees, which is the highest number of authorized FTE employees among state agencies.
- The annual base salary for the Department of Public Safety's director ranks sixty-sixth among the 100 highest management annual base salaries, even though that position administers an agency providing services for public safety. In addition, the Department of Public Safety has a budget for fiscal year 2014 of approximately $$ 1.4$ billion and $9,165.3$ authorized FTE employees, making it one of the largest state agencies in terms of budget and employees.

For this analysis, the State Auditor's Office placed agencies in one of three executive officer compensation tiers, which are groups of agencies according to recommended salary groups, based on factors such as the size of the [^2]agency's budget, the number of authorized FTE employees, and the complexity of the agency's mission.

Chapter 1-A

Highest Salaries for Management Positions at State Agencies
The two highest paid executive officers at state agencies, based on annual base salaries, are the executive officers at the Employees Retirement System and the Teacher Retirement System. The Employees Retirement System's and Teacher Retirement System's boards of trustees set the annual base salary for the executive officer positions at those agencies.

Table 1 on page 4 lists the 100 highest management annual base salaries among state agencies as of June 30, 2014. Of those 100 top salaries, 27 were executive officer positions. The remaining 73 positions were:

- Fifty-one classified positions that are within the State's Position Classification Plan in salary groups B31 through B35. The titles for those 51 positions are chief investment officer, deputy director, director, district engineer, general counsel, deputy comptroller, and deputy executive commissioner. Unless otherwise noted in the General Appropriations Act, the 51 positions will be eligible to receive a 2.0 percent salary increase effective September 1, 2014, as authorized by the 83 rd Legislature. ${ }^{7}$ (See Table 11 on page 32 for the salary ranges for selected salary groups in Salary Schedule B of the State's Position Classification Plan.)
- Sixteen positions that are exempt from the State's Position Classification Plan. (See Table 10 on page 31 for the salary ranges for salary groups within the Schedule of Exempt Positions, which includes executive officer positions that are exempt from the State's Position Classification Plan.)
- Six positions that are unclassified and not assigned to a salary group. Three of those positions are at the Treasury Safekeeping Trust Company, two are at the Higher Education Coordinating Board, and one is at the Employees Retirement System.

The annual base salaries for the executive officers at some of the agencies with some of the largest budgets and/or authorized FTE employees were lower than the annual base salaries of some other management positions. For example, as of June 30, 2014:

- The Health and Human Services Commission's executive commissionerwho is responsible for an agency that administers programs such as Medicaid, the Children's Health Insurance Program, the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program, and disaster assistance-earned an annual

[^3]base salary that was lower than the annual base salaries for 14 other management positions at state agencies. The Health and Human Services Commission has a budget for fiscal year 2014 of approximately $$ 24.0$ billion and 12,720.7 authorized FTE employees, and it is responsible for the oversight of the other four large agencies that comprise Texas's health and human services system: the Department of Aging and Disability Services, the Department of State Health Services, the Department of Family and Protective Services, and the Department of Assistive and Rehabilitative Services. Combined, those five agencies have a budget for fiscal year 2014 of approximately $$ 36.0$ billion and 57,866.5 authorized FTE employees.

- The Department of Criminal Justice's executive director, who is responsible for the management of state prisons and state jails and for the oversight of private correctional facilities, earned an annual base salary that was lower than the annual base salaries for 14 other management positions at state agencies. ${ }^{8}$ The Department of Criminal Justice has the highest number of authorized FTE employees at 40,295.4 and a budget for fiscal year 2014 of approximately $$ 3.2$ billion.
- The Texas Education Agency's commissioner, who administers an agency responsible for providing guidance and resources to help Texas public schools meet the educational needs of all students, earned an annual base salary that was lower than the annual base salaries of 29 other management positions at state agencies. ${ }^{9}$ The Texas Education Agency has 795.0 authorized FTE employees and a budget for fiscal year 2014 of approximately $$ 25.8$ billion.
- The Department of Public Safety's director, who provides services for public safety and has a budget for fiscal year 2014 of approximately $$ 1.4$ billion and 9,165.3 authorized FTE employees, earned an annual base salary that was lower than 65 other management positions at state agencies.

Of the 27 executive officers listed among the top 100 annual base salaries at state agencies, only 2 executive officers received additional compensation through the state payroll system between September 1, 2013, and June 30, 2014. Those two executive officers were at the Employees Retirement System and the Treasury Safekeeping Trust Company. See Table 1 on the next page.

Table 1 on the next page lists the 100 highest management annual base salaries among state agencies as of June 30, 2014.
${ }^{8}$ The Health and Human Services Commission's executive commissioner and the Department of Criminal Justice's executive director earned the same annual base salary as of June 30, 2014.
${ }^{9}$ The Texas Education Agency's commissioner and a deputy director III at the Employees Retirement System earned the same annual base salary as of June 30, 2014.

Chapter 1-B

Executive Officer Recommended Salary Ranges and Salary Groups

The State Auditor's Office conducted a market comparison using public and private sector data appropriate to the nature and complexity of 74 executive officer positions that were exempt from the State's Position Classification Plan during the 2014-2015 biennium and 1 director-level position at the Bullock Texas State History Museum ${ }^{10}$ (see Appendix 3 on page 33 for more information on the market analysis).

To determine the recommended salary ranges for incumbent executive officers and salary groups for each position listed in Tables 2, 3, and 4 on the following pages, the State Auditor's Office analyzed:

- The executive officer annual base salaries and the midpoints of the assigned salary ranges.
- The size of the agency's annual appropriations.
- The number of authorized FTE employees of the agency, including the number of federally funded FTE employees, FTE employees paid from non-appropriated funds, and contractors.
- Market average compensation for similar executive positions.
- The agency's mission.
- Salaries of classified employees.
- Specialized experience, education, or skills required for the position.

New Legislation on Executive Salary Reporting

The 83rd Legislature enacted legislation requiring state agencies to make available to the public, by posting on their Web sites, certain information regarding the compensation of their executive staff, including:

- The agency's methodology for determining the compensation of executive staff.
- Whether executive staff is eligible for a salary supplement, and the percentage increase in the executive officer's compensation over a fiveyear period.
Source: Texas Government Code, Section 659.026 (b).

Based on this analysis, some executive officer positions may have a recommended salary group that is higher than their currently assigned salary group.

This report does not recommend specific salaries for individuals. The Legislature sets salaries during the budget process or an agency's governing board sets salaries as authorized by statute or the General Appropriations Act (see text box for new disclosure requirements related to executive compensation). When setting salaries, the Legislature and each agency's governing board should consider an individual executive officer's past and current performance, experience, education, licenses, and certifications, as well as the agency's ability to pay. For example, not all executive officers should be paid at the market average, which is usually an amount that is at or near the midpoint of an assigned salary range. It may be [^4]> appropriate for employees with limited experience or who are not meeting performance targets to be paid closer to the minimum of the salary range. Similarly, it may be appropriate for an employee to be paid a salary at the midpoint or higher in the salary range if the employee (1) has qualifications that bring strong experience to the job, (2) exceeds the qualifications required for the job, (3) exceeds performance targets, and/or (4) is an outstanding performer. Other factors that should be considered when placing an employee within a salary range include the difference between the pay of an executive officer and the pay of other staff and budgetary factors.

In addition to compensation analysis information for state agency executive officers, this report also provides information about market comparisons for

Judicial Compensation Commission

The 80th Legislature created the Judicial Compensation Commission (Commission) effective September 1, 2007, to recommend the proper salaries to be paid to all justices and judges of the Supreme Court of Texas, the Court of Criminal Appeals, the courts of appeals, and the district courts. The Commission is responsible for making a report on judicial compensation to the Legislature no later than December 1 of each even-numbered year. executive officers at self-directed, semi-independent agencies. See Appendix 4 on page 37 for more information on market comparisons for executive officer positions at self-directed, semi-independent agencies.

For this analysis, the State Auditor's Office placed agencies in one of three executive officer compensation tiers, which are groups of agencies, according to recommended salary groups. The tiers excluded higher education institutions; legislative agencies; elected officials; the Secretary of State; the courts; self-directed, semiindependent agencies; and unclassified positions (for example, the Treasury Safekeeping Trust Company's executive director position). (See text box for information about the Judicial Compensation Commission.)

Tier I Positions

Tier I includes 19 executive officer positions at state agencies, most of which have the largest number of authorized FTE employees and/or budget amounts within Texas government, including:

- Health and Human Services Agencies - Those agencies include the Health and Human Services Commission, the Department of State Health Services, the Department of Family and Protective Services, the Department of Aging and Disability Services, and the Department of Assistive and Rehabilitative Services. Those agencies are responsible for services such as protecting the health of citizens; protecting and assisting children, the elderly, and the disabled; and administering Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program and Medicaid benefits.
- Education Agencies - Those agencies include the Higher Education Coordinating Board and the Texas Education Agency. Those agencies are responsible for helping to ensure that Texas meets the educational needs of students.
- Public Safety and Criminal Justice Agencies - Those agencies include the Department of Criminal Justice, the Texas Juvenile Justice Department, and the Department of Public Safety. Those agencies are responsible for ensuring public safety and homeland security.

Table 2 lists the recommended salary ranges and salary groups for Tier I positions. Except for the executive officer positions at the Employees Retirement System and the Teacher Retirement System, the executive officer positions for Tier I agencies have a recommended exempt salary group of 7 $($ 162,000$ to $$ 254,700)$ or $8($ 186,300$ to $$ 292,500)$. It should be noted that the salary ranges listed in Table 2 do not always match the full ranges of the recommended salary groups. The recommended salary range minimum was based on the incumbent's monthly salary (annualized) as of June 30, 2014, or the minimum of the recommended salary group, whichever was higher (see Appendix 2 on page 31 for the full range of each salary group).

Tier II Positions

Tier II includes 35 executive officer positions primarily at state agencies that are mid-sized with between 100 and 800 authorized FTE employees. All of the executive officer positions in Tier II have a recommended exempt salary group of $4($ 106,500$ to $$ 167,500), 5($ 122,500$ to $$ 192,600)$, or $6($ 140,900$ to $$ 221,500)$.

It should be noted that the salary ranges listed in Table 3 do not always match the full ranges of the recommended salary groups. The recommended salary range minimum is based on the incumbent's salary (annualized) as of June 30, 2014, or the minimum of the recommended salary group, whichever was higher.

Abstract

Tier II Executive Officer Compensation Executive Officer Annual Base Recommended Salary Recommended Agency Salary as of June 30, 2014 Range Salary Group ${ }^{\mathrm{a}}$ The salary for the State Prosecuting Attorney position is set in Texas Government Code, Section 46.003. The state prosecuting attorney and each state prosecutor is entitled to receive state compensation equal to the compensation that is provided for a district judge position in the General Appropriations Act. b The executive officer position at the Bullock Texas State History Museum is currently classified as a Director IV in the State's Position Classification Plan. C The Texas Medical Board may authorize an additional salary supplement not to exceed $\$ 12,000$ annually if the executive officer is a medical doctor and an attorney, as authorized by Rider 3, page VIII-36, the General Appropriations Act (83rd Legislature).

Tier III Positions

Tier III includes 21 executive officer positions primarily at small agencies that have fewer than 100 authorized FTE employees. All of the executive officer positions in Tier III have a recommended exempt salary group of 1 ( $$ 70,000$ to $$ 110,000$ ), $2($ 80,500$ to $$ 126,600)$, or $3($ 92,600$ to $$ 145,600)$.

Table 4 lists the recommended salary ranges and salary groups for Tier III positions. It should be noted that the salary ranges listed in Table 4 do not always match the full ranges of the recommended salary groups. The recommended salary range minimum is based on the incumbent's salary (annualized) as of June 30, 2014, or the minimum of the recommended salary group, whichever was higher.

Pay compression occurs when the pay of a subordinate employee comes close to, matches, or exceeds the pay of a direct supervisor, including an agency's executive officer. When that occurs, the difference in pay may be disproportionate to the difference in the responsibilities, which could create internal inequity.

Although there may be circumstances in which an employee could justifiably be paid more than his or her direct supervisor, standard compensation practices recommend an average difference of at least 15 percent between an executive officer's salary and the salaries of the staff the executive officer oversees. That differential can help to maintain internal equity by recognizing executives for their skills, experience, and scope of responsibilities for managing an agency. However, as discussed below, pay compression exists among executive officers and their staffs at several state agencies. Pay compression was also identified as a concern by several executive officers and human resources directors that the State Auditor's Office surveyed for this report.

Pay Compression Exists Among Some Executive Officers and Their Staff

The State Auditor's Office reviewed the annual base salaries as of June 30, 2014, of executive officers and full-time classified, unclassified, and other exempt employees at state agencies (excluding higher education institutions; legislative agencies; elected officials; the Secretary of State; the courts; and self-directed, semi-independent agencies) and determined that:

- A total of 116 employees at 12 state agencies had annual base salaries that exceeded the annual base salary of their executive officer (see Table 5 on the next page). Those employees' salaries exceeded their executive officer salaries by $$ 468$ (or 0.4 percent) to $$ 290,000$ (or 116.0 percent) annually.
- A total of 116 employees at 35 state agencies had annual base salaries that were the same as or within 10.0 percent less than their executive officer's annual base salary (see Table 6 on page 18). Specifically:
- Forty-six employees at 15 agencies had salaries that were the same or within 5.0 percent less than their executive officer's salary. Of those 46 employees, 15 ( 32.6 percent) were in director positions and 23 ( 50.0 percent) were in medical positions. ${ }^{11}$

[^5]- Seventy employees at 26 agencies had salaries that were 5.1 percent to 10.0 percent less than their executive officer's salary. Of those 70 employees, 22 ( 31.4 percent) were in director positions and 36 (51.4 percent) were in medical positions. ${ }^{12}$

Unless otherwise noted in the General Appropriations Act, the classified positions in Tables 5 and 6 will be eligible to receive a 2.0 percent salary increase effective September 1, 2014, as authorized by the 83 rd Legislature. ${ }^{13}$ Table 5 shows the total number of employees who had a higher annual base salary than the executive officer at each agency as of June 30, 2014.

Possible Causes of Pay Compression

Pay compression can occur at state agencies for a variety of reasons. Possible causes include:

- Salaries for some executive officers may be set too low. Most executive officers have annual base salaries that are authorized in the General Appropriations Act. These are often referred to as "not-to-exceed" rates (see text box for more information). If the not-to-exceed rates are set too low, they can set an unintentional salary cap for the entire agency if the agency's executive officer or the agency's governing

Not-to-exceed Rates

The General Appropriations Act authorizes the salaries of most agency executive officers. These are "not-to-exceed" rates. In the General Appropriations Act (83rd Legislature), 71 executive officer positions that had an assigned salary group in the Schedule of Exempt Positions also had not-to-exceed rates. board chooses to not pay employees in professional-level positions at or more than the executive officer's annual base salary. For example, many agencies have a need for specialized employees in legal, finance, medical, and other professional career fields. If the executive officer's salary is too low, agencies may struggle to recruit and retain staff for professional positions because of market competition unless the agencies are willing to set the salaries for employees in those positions close to or higher than the executive officer's salary.

- Executive officers classified as "exempt" are not eligible for the same types of salary increases as the employees they manage. Employees classified within the State's Position Classification Plan are eligible for increases, such as merit increases, that do not exist for most exempt employees, such as executive officers.

Chapter 2-B
Executive Officers and Human Resources Directors Expressed Concerns About Executive Officer Pay at Some State Agencies

In a survey that the State Auditor's Office conducted, some agency executive officers and human resources directors expressed concerns about the executive officer's annual base salary at their agencies. Of the 70 executive officers that completed the survey, 20 ( 28.6 percent) reported being dissatisfied or very dissatisfied with their salary, while 19 (27.1 percent) reported being mostly satisfied with their salary. Other reported concerns included:

- The not-to-exceed rates and the inability for executive officers to receive increases for performance, such as merit increases, have contributed to pay compression at the agency.
- The agency may have difficulty obtaining qualified applicants when the executive officer position becomes vacant because the agency cannot offer a market-competitive salary.
- Inequities exist in pay among executive officer employees at state agencies.
- Funds are not being appropriated for approved salary increases for executive officer positions.
- The pay for the executive officer position is not commensurate with the level of job responsibilities.

Chapter 2-C

Medical and Investment Positions Are Among the Highest Paid in State Government

As shown in Table 5 in Chapter 2-A, more employees in medical and investment positions have annual base salaries that exceed their executive officers' annual base salaries than employees in other types of positions.

Table 7 on the next page lists the job titles and salaries of the 45 highest paid medical positions. All positions listed in Table 7 work for the Department of State Health Services. They all earn more than the Department of State Health Services' commissioner, who is a medical doctor responsible for the overall management of the agency and earns an annual base salary of $$ 210,000$.

Changes in Salaries for the Highest Paid Executive Officer Positions at State Agencies

Table 9 on the next page shows the difference in salary over a 5-year period for the top 30 highest paid executive officer positions. Salary adjustments for executive officer positions have varied among state agencies, with percent changes ranging from 0.0 percent to 90.0 percent over a 5 -year period.

Article IX, Section 3.04, the General Appropriations Act (83rd Legislature) provides mechanisms for increasing an executive officer's pay above the assigned not-to-exceed rates; however, these mechanisms are available only to select agencies. Those two mechanisms are:

- The Governor can set the rate of pay within the range for the respective exempt salary groups in which the positions are assigned.
- The agency's governing board, if applicable, can submit a request to the Governor, the Legislative Budget Board, and the Comptroller of Public Accounts to increase an executive officer's pay within the position's assigned salary group.

Appendices

Objective

The objective of this report was to conduct a study reviewing exempt position compensation to:

- Compare exempt positions to market average compensation for similar executive positions.
- Compare exempt positions' salaries to classified positions' salaries.
- Prepare an analysis of exempt position compensation that considers agency size, agency appropriations, authorized full-time equivalent employee levels, and classified positions within the agency.

Scope

The scope of this study included 74 executive officer positions that were exempt from the State's Position Classification Plan (Plan) during the 20142015 biennium and 1 director-level position at the Bullock Texas State History Museum. This report also provides salary comparisons and market analysis for executive officers for self-directed, semi-independent agencies.

The State Auditor's Office analyzed state agency executive officer pay at state agencies and other public and private sector entities, taking into account factors such as:

- The size of the agency's annual appropriations.
- The agency's number of authorized full-time equivalent (FTE) employees using data as of February 28, 2014, including the Governor's and the Legislative Budget Board's approved changes.
- The market average compensation for similar executive positions.
- The executive officer position's annual base salary compared to the annual base salaries of classified positions within the agency.
- Specialized education required for each position.

This study excluded positions at higher education institutions and legislative agencies, except for the State Auditor, which was included for purposes of comparison.

Other executive officer positions not included in this study include elected officials, the Secretary of State, and the courts. Salaries for elected officials are a public policy decision that is not tied directly to the market average for similar professional positions.

A family member of the State Auditor is the executive director of a state agency included in the scope of this report. This condition could be seen as potentially affecting our independence in making recommendations related to the agency. We proceeded with this report as required by the Annual State Audit Plan and statute. The State Auditor recused himself from the sections of this report affecting the Facilities Commission, and those sections have been supervised, reviewed, and approved by Chief of Staff Anita D'Souza. This condition did not affect our conclusions. ${ }^{15}$

Methodology

For this study, the State Auditor's Office considered the average market compensation for similar executive and professional positions; compensation for classified employees; the size and complexity of agencies; and specialized experience, education, or skills required for each position. The State Auditor's Office also compared executive officer positions from different agencies and took into account the size of an agency's annual appropriations and the number of an agency's authorized FTE employees. ${ }^{16}$

To determine the 100 highest management annual base salaries, the State Auditor's Office annualized the monthly base pay for each management position as of June 30, 2014. The annual base salaries do not include additional compensation, which consist of bonuses and one-time merits given to the employees from September 1, 2013, through June 30, 2014

In developing recommendations, the State Auditor's Office also reviewed compensation rates for similar work performed in the public and private sectors and compared those rates to the midpoint of existing salary ranges to determine the market competitiveness of the salary range for the positions reviewed. Market salary data for each survey was aged to January 1, 2015.

In addition to reviewing compensation data compiled by external parties, the State Auditor's Office conducted surveys of state agency executive officers and human resource directors and selected public sector entities in March 2014.

In developing the recommended salary groups and ranges, the State Auditor's Office reviewed:

[^9]- Book of the States Survey, the Council of State Governments, January 2013.

Salaries for full-time classified state employees and exempt executive officers as of June 30, 2009, and June 30, 2014, were gathered from:

- The Uniform Statewide Payroll/Personnel System.
- The Human Resource Information System.
- The Standardized Payroll/Personnel Reporting System.

To determine the market average for executive officer positions at Texas state agencies, the State Auditor's Office blended market data from public, nonprofit, and private sector salary survey sources. To supplement that data, the State Auditor's Office sent surveys to agencies in the 10 most populous states outside Texas, quasi-governmental agencies, and major Texas cities and counties.

This analysis considered the nature and complexity of each agency, such as the number of authorized full-time equivalent employees, budget size, and scope of responsibilities. The analysis also considered job requirements of the executive officer positions, such as a requirement for a specialized or advanced degree. The analysis did not consider the job performance or the experience level of the individuals currently performing the jobs.

Table 12 lists, by General Appropriations Act article, the market average, current salary group, and recommended salary group for each agency reviewed. Table 12 excludes higher education institutions, legislative agencies; agencies with elected officials; the Secretary of State; the courts; self-directed, semi-independent agencies; and unclassified positions (for example, the Treasury Safekeeping Trust Company's executive director position). See Appendix 4 on page 37 for more information on market comparisons for executive officer positions at self-directed, semi-independent agencies.
